

Spring and the Robins Are Here So Are the Paints and Wall Papers

3 SAVINGS ON PAINT.

There are a number of points that are worthy of consideration when choosing paint, but there are only three ways in which a saving can be effected: Surface covered, durability of the paint, and labor. We believe that all of these savings are combined in to a larger degree than any other brand made.

PENINSULAR READY MIXED PAINT

COVERING CAPACITY

Peninsular Paint weighs 16 pounds to the gallon exclusive of the can, 9 pounds of which is pigment. One gallon will fully cover 500 square feet, one coat, or 300 square feet, two coats. Other paint makers claim their paint covers nearly as much—our paint does it. It covers from 1/2 to 1/2 more surface than paints that are cheap in price only. Figure your paint not by gallons but by the job, and Peninsular Paint will save you money every time.

DURABILITY

Cheap paints seldom last over two years. There are houses in town that were painted with Peninsular Paint eight and ten years ago and look well today. It will outwear any paint made—and that means a saving.

LABOR

The principal item of cost in painting is labor—it costs more than the paint. It costs as much to apply poor paint as good, but the poor has to be applied several times while Peninsular Paint has only to be applied once every eight or ten years. This is the greatest saving of all. When you begin to think of painting let us give you a color card and some figures on this superior Peninsular Paint. It will be money in your pocket to let us do so and will mean about ten years of paint satisfaction.

BUY WALL PAPERS AT HOME

Almost our entire new line of Wall Paper is now here and we consider it the finest, as it is the largest, stock of up-to-date papers we have ever carried. There is not a commonplace pattern in the lot. Every one is new and beautiful. We believe that we have been unusually fortunate in our choice of papers and want you to come in and pass judgment on them.

Notwithstanding their artistic merit these papers are very reasonable in price. Have them from 5 cents a roll up. You can not imagine what fine papers you can get for a little money until you see them. Come see them whether you intend papering or not.

Have all the newest ideas about wall decoration. Better let us help you design the papering for your rooms.

There are three distinct savings in buying Wall Papers here rather than from peddlers or mail order houses. Each of them is alone a sufficient reason for doing so.

- I. You have no express to pay.
- II. If you get more than is needed you can return all full rolls and your money will be repaid. If you run short you can get more and don't run the chance of not being able to match your pattern.
- III. Our prices are as low or lower than any peddler or Mail Order house can sell the same grade for. We will duplicate any price they make.

In addition we show you just how your paper will look—sidewall, border and ceiling; you can take all the time you want in making selections; you have a wider assortment to choose from and we are pleased to help you with suggestions as to the latest ideas in the proper treatment for your different rooms.

At least let us give you our prices, then buy where your judgment dictates.

SARATOGA MURDER.

Quarrel Among Jews Results in Killing of Mrs. Ida Finkelstein on Monday.

Abraham Karsarsky, a Polish Jew shot and killed Mrs. Samuel Finkelstein about seven o'clock Monday morning at the home of the Finkelsteins in the town of Saratoga. Karsarsky immediately came to this city and gave himself up to Sheriff Little with an explanation of what he had done, and he was locked up in the county jail pending an investigation of the case.

When interviewed on the subject Karsarsky said that the murder was brought about by the woman, who, he said, had struck him the night before, and in order to get even and to right the wrong inflicted on him he had shot her. He did not seem to feel any remorse for what he had done, and appeared to think the woman had got no more than was coming to her. When Karsarsky came to this city he did not know whether he had killed the woman or not, but he knew that he had shot her, but had not stopped to investigate the matter, as he was apparently afraid of the woman's husband, who had appeared on the scene immediately after the shooting.

Karsarsky stated that he had come to this country about two years ago and had lived for a time in Chicago. Later he had bought a piece of land in the town of Saratoga, claiming that he had done so thru the recommendation of Finkelstein, who he said was in the employ of a Milwaukee land company, who were handling lands in Saratoga. He went to live on the land last spring and occupied the place all summer. He claims that the land was no good, and that he had accused Finkelstein of being the means of bearing him the loss of his money, claiming that he had lost $750 on the deal. Then this he said a quarrel had developed, in which Mrs. Finkelstein had taken a hand the night before, when she struck him several blows with a club, resulting in his shooting her next morning in order to even things up.

Mr. Finkelstein says that he had nothing to do with Karsarsky buying the land in Saratoga, and that he was not acting as an agent for any outside firm in inducing others to buy land in that neighborhood. He also says that Karsarsky only invested $100 in the land he purchased in that town and that they never had any quarrel about the matter; in fact that the land deal was never mentioned between them.

Mr. Finkelstein's version of the affair is that Karsarsky bought the land and paid a small amount down. He then moved onto the land last spring and lived there during the summer, moving to this city in the fall. Later he went to Finkelstein and asked him if he would allow his wife to stay at his place for a short time as he was going up the line to look for work. Finkelstein allowed the woman to go to his home, and Karsarsky went away for a short time. When he came back he went to Finkelstein's place and stayed there in spite of the protest of Finkelstein and his family, and the result was that they stayed there all winter. It seems there was more or less trouble between the two families during the winter, owing to the fact that the Finkelsteins were trying to get rid of Karsarsky and his family, but were unable to do so, as Karsarsky claimed they could not turn him out in the winter time.

Finkelstein also claims that Karsarsky often abused his wife, and that Mrs. Finkelstein used to interfere in the family quarrels, taking the part of Mrs. Karsarsky.

On the Sunday night before the murder, Finkelstein says that he went to Karsarsky and told him that they were going to move away and that he and his family would have to get out; that he did not want to leave them there as it might involve him in a lawsuit later on. He says that Karsarsky refused to go, and said that he would stay there until he was put out by law. Karsarsky then left the house and remained away until some time during the night, when he returned and was let in by Mrs. Karsarsky.

About 6:30 Monday morning Karsarsky went to a trunk which he kept upstairs and took out a revolver and concealed it on his person, and coming down stairs, went outside the house. A short time after Mrs. Finkelstein left the house for the purpose of doing the milking. While on her way to the barn she was approached by Karsarsky, who struck her a back handed blow with his left fist, knocking her to the ground. As she lay there he drew his revolver from his pocket and fired four shots at the prostrate woman at short range. One of the bullets entered her breast just above the heart, killing her almost instantly, the other shots going wild.

The whole scene had been witnessed by Finkelstein's son, who was at the pump drawing water, and when he saw what was taking place he picked up a club and started for Karsarsky, but the man pointed his revolver at the young fellow and warned him not to approach or he would shoot him. Finkelstein had also heard one scream from his wife and also the shots from where he was inside the house and he and his brother came out as Karsarsky was turning to leave. The murderer immediately turned about and flourished his weapon and threatened to shoot if they did not keep away. Finkelstein then turned his attention to his wife and the murderer started for town. The woman was carried into the

ON TO APPLETON.

Local High School Has Entered for the State Basketball Championship.

Special to The Tribune.

Appleton, Wis., March 27. Grand Rapids high school is entered in the coming Northwest Wisconsin Inter-Scholastic Basketball tournament to be held at Lawrence university on April 7 and 8, which will decide the championship of Wisconsin. Coach Koehler of Lawrence university last Saturday afternoon had received forfeit fees of $2 each from eight high schools as follows: Grand Rapids, Appleton, Oconto, Appleton, Sturgeon Bay, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan and Marinette. Oshkosh and West Division of Milwaukee will send in their money before the end of the present week, thus making ten teams who will compete for first honors in the state. Manitowish and Two Rivers are contemplating sending a team and in case they are admitted the management of the tournament will call the first games on April 8, instead of April 7, in order that all games will have been played and the champions determined on the following Saturday night.

The Lawrence University Athletic association has purchased prizes to the extent of $100, which will be given to the winners of the contest. The clothing dealers of Appleton have announced that they will present a handsome silver trophy to the team winning first place in the tournament. A local sporting goods dealer has declared he will give a valuable gymnasium fixture to the team winning first in conduct and appearance during the tournament games. Lawrence university will give gold medals to every member of the winning team; silver medals will be presented to every member of the team winning second position and bronze medals will be given to members of the team winning third position.

A meeting of the Lawrence Athletic Board of Control will be held the latter part of this week, at which time all officials of the tournament will be chosen. The prize for conduct and appearance will be awarded by a special committee appointed for that purpose. The officials to preside at tournament games will be Coach Koehler of Lawrence university, who has a practical knowledge of the game. Every precaution will be taken to prevent partiality or unfairness.

Committees have already been selected to attend to the entertainment end of the tournament. The co-eds of Lawrence university have consented to give the visitors a banquet and reception at Ormsby hall, the ladies' dormitory, on the last night of the tournament. The banquet will be served in the spacious underground dining room at Ormsby hall.

The schedule of tournament games will be announced the latter part of this week. All entries must be in no later than next Saturday. Coach Koehler stated Saturday that more than twelve teams will not be admitted because of the inability of running off the required number of games to determine the championship in three days time.

A Heroic Rescue.

Leland Johnson had quite an experience in a nautical way on Saturday afternoon. He was sitting along the bank of the creek that runs thru his mother's yard, when he lost his balance and fell into the stream. Ordinarily the creek is only a small rivulet, but at this time of the year it is a raging torrent, and when Leland struck the water he started down stream at a lively rate. His brother Donald, who happened to be near, grasped the situation at once, and immediately cut across the bank with the intention of striking the creek below his brother and catching him when he came along. This he succeeded in doing, and the little fellow was dragged from the water only a short distance from the river. It was a case of great presence of mind on the part of Donald, as had he hesitated only a moment or two his brother would have been carried into the river and beyond his reach. Leland is nine years old and his brother Donald twelve.

Notice.

As I expect to leave the city in the near future I wish all persons who have open accounts with me to call and settle same before the 7th of April. All accounts not in by that time will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. Dr. S. M. Kyes.

Julius Verne, probably one of the best known writers of fiction of the present day, died at his home in Amiens, France, on Saturday. Verne was a talented man and wrote during his life eighty novels. When he commenced his writing he was pronounced by many to be the most colossal prevaricator of his time, but as he continued in his work, his merit was recognized, and there is no question but the nature of his works, which in the hands of many a young reader is destined to go down into the ages, which the great author always incorporated in his stories. Two of his famous works were "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea" and "Around the World in Eighty Days." When these works were published, unthinking people pronounced them the wildest kind of flights of fancy, but subsequent developments in transportation have proven the trip around the world to be nothing out of the ordinary, while the improvements in submarine boating have been so wonderful that one is led to believe that the trip under the ocean described in the other book may yet be realized. Every young American with a scientific turn of mind will remember Julius Verne with the kindest of feeling, and regret to learn that the great author has passed to his final rest.

Next Tuesday our residents throughout the county will be called upon to vote for a new county superintendent. It is our opinion that they can do no better than to cast their ballot for the present incumbent, Robert Morris. Mr. Morris has served the county faithfully for the past two years, and it is no more than the people can do to extend him the office for another term. This is an office that is entirely separated from politics, and no man should let a political feeling enter in the contest. It takes some little time for a man to properly acquire the familiarity necessary to properly discharge the duties of county superintendent, and it is doubtful if it would be a good thing for the schools of the county if a change were made every two years. This is a matter that every voter should carefully consider and not cast his ballot on the advice of a friend but for the man that will give the people the best service for the succeeding two years. We do not believe in keeping one man in office perpetually until he comes to think that he is married to his job, but there is never any harm in giving a good man a second term in an office of this sort.

Practical Tinsmiths.

Wausau News—Charles Luback of Grand Rapids, an experienced tinsmith, and who comes here most highly recommended by the people of that city, has purchased the interest of Richard & Quistoff, and has entered into a partnership with John Adams under the firm name of Adams & Luback. They will continue the business at the old stand, 401 Washington street, and will do anything in the line of tinwork, or sheet metal work, furnaces, etc. They guarantee every job, and will make the prices so that you will give them more than one trial.

New Officers Elected.

At the meeting of the Elks last night the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
Exalted Ruler—J. J. Jeffery.
Esteemed Leading Knight—J. C. Hamilton.
Esteemed Lecturing Knight—Guy Wood.
Esteemed Loyal Knight—Rob Nash.
Secretary—Sam Olmsted.
Treasurer—A. G. Miller.
Tyler—Archer Podewiltz.
Trustee—W. F. Kellogg.

The matter of leasing the third story of the new building which will be erected by F. J. Wood on the south side of the street was also brought up, and the sentiment of the lodge was in favor of renting the new place. In the new quarters there will be considerable more room than in the place now occupied by the lodge. It is expected that the lodge will have to vacate the present quarters inside of a month, as the space now occupied by them will be divided into office rooms.

Will Open Billiard Hall.

The Albi Billiard company of Milwaukee has leased the store building belonging to the Pominville estate, now occupied by Will Petzold, and it is the intention of the company to put in a first class billiard hall as soon as they get control of the place. The present lease runs until the 15th of May, when the new proprietors will take hold. The company intends to put in a pool and two billiard tables and fix the place up in good shape. They will also handle cigars, but there will be no drinks sold in the place.

Free to All Ministers.

I will send one bottle of Warner's White Wine of Tar—the best cough remedy on earth—free to all ministers who will recommend it to their friends after giving it a fair trial. Address: Dr. C. D. Warner, Coldwater, Mich. For sale by F. L. Steib & Co.

Modern Woodmen Picnic.

The state picnic of the Modern Woodmen of America will be held in this city some time in August and the local lodge of Woodmen have already begun to make arrangements for the event. Last year the picnic was held at Merrill and there were 5,000 people in attendance. It is expected that this year's picnic will be larger and as a consequence there will be a lot of preparation necessary in order to properly amuse and take care of the crowd.

When the meeting was held at Merrill last year Grand Rapids was selected as the next meeting place, this city being picked because of the excellent railroad facilities and its central location, it being concluded that it would probably be possible to get a larger crowd here than at any other place that could be named.

These annual picnics are held every year for the purpose of giving the members of the order a chance to have a little outing and to meet their neighbors and friends from other lodges throughout the state. So far they have proved very successful, and the local lodge has determined to have the Grand Rapids meeting equal or excel anything that has gone before if it is possible for them to do so.

It is the intention to get a number of attractions here for the occasion and give the outsiders as good an entertainment as it is possible to do. In order to do the thing up right the local lodge will have the assistance of the merchants in this city in the undertaking, and it will necessitate the donation of some money besides what can be made at the place where the attractions are held. It is not thought that the people will have anything by this however, as with a crowd of five thousand people here for two days, there must of necessity be considerable money spent, and the people in the city will reap the benefit.

Gathering Statistics.

The Chicago & Northwestern Ry. company is having its local agents furnish them statistics of the different cities through which their road runs with a view to furnishing the information to people who are inclined to invest in industrial enterprises of this kind. They figure that with this information at hand they will be able to give information on short notice to any person who may want same, and as they calculate to have the figures absolutely accurate and as complete as it is possible to get them, they can give a prospective investor such a good idea of the advantages of a town that he will know at once whether it is the place he is looking for, and be able to pick out a city with the advantages he wants, without doing any traveling.

Of course the work is not being done altogether for the benefit of the different towns along the line, as the officers of the company figure that anything that benefits a city on their system is bound to benefit them. Then there should be an inclination on the part of the company to misrepresent matters, as they cover such a large territory that they can tell the absolute truth and still be able to furnish the manufacturer with almost anything he may desire in the way of advantages.

The railway company is co-operating with the local business men's and advancement associations in the matter, and there is no question but a great deal of good can be accomplished in this manner if the matter is properly handled. The instructions to the local agents is to furnish the company with information regarding facilities for supplying raw materials, cheap fuel and reliable water power, together with a statement of labor conditions and market possibilities, and in case there is a society in the city offering free factory sites to supply the mills, etc. In fact to give all the information about a town that it is possible to get, as well as to furnish a copy of all literature gotten out by advancement associations, and to make suggestions applicable to the place from which the information comes.

The work is certainly a good one and should be encouraged by local citizens and associations.

Baptists Have Moved.

Spaulston's hall has been leased by the Baptist church and will be used hereafter for all their public services. The furniture is being moved this week and some new pious furniture installed so that those who attend the meetings of this church in the future will find conditions more attractive and comfortable than heretofore.

PITTSVILLE.

Dr. and Mrs. Edw. Houghton were given a surprise on Sunday evening last by a few of their intimate friends, the occasion being another anniversary reached in the doctor's birthday record. The cordial hospitality shown the visitors by this worthy couple made their guests feel they were indeed welcome. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kuister, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Austin, F. S. and L. E. Woodworth and Miss Cora Pratt from Grand Rapids. The menu set before the guests proved conclusively that Pittsville has certainly got some excellent cooks—the doctor being called on only once during the evening to administer a powder.

Mrs. Chas. Radtke, wife of Charles Radtke, a farmer three miles northwest of here, passed away early Tuesday morning, death being the result of paralysis with which she was attacked last Saturday evening while engaged in talking. Mrs. Radtke went out to do the milking in apparent good health and the sudden affliction was a terrible shock to the family. Mr. and Mrs. Radtke were pioneer settlers in Wood county and the farm is one of the best in this vicinity. The funeral was held on Thursday from the Lutheran church, Rev. H. H. Maack, of Grand Rapids, officiating.

Complaint having been made, the district attorney has notified slot machine owners that they must discontinue operating them and the order has been complied with, in some places the crank by which they are operated being removed and in some cases the box taken out altogether. Gambling devices have also been squelched in Marshfield and Grand Rapids and the movement will likely become general throughout the county.

One Woman's Experience

"Before I commenced taking your Rexall Tablets, I was troubled with terrible pains in my stomach, and I would use boiling hot water for relief. ## ELECTION NOTICE.

Office of the City Clerk, March 28, 1905.
To the electors of the city of Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin.
Notice is hereby given that a municipal election is to be held in the several wards of the city of Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin, on the 15th day of April, A. D. 1905, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of each candidate for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, such as its proper column.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters. A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have endorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot. But he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes time is allowed in both to mark ballot. Unfolded ballot or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerk on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares, to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or by reason of physical disability is unable to mark his ballot, can have the assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are as follows:

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT

Why Men Grow Weak

It is Due to a Wasting of the Most Vital Elements, Which Destroys the Whole of the Bodily Forces.

It makes young men feel old and it cuts off the usefulness of middle-aged and old men long before their allotted time, resulting in premature decline and decay. It robs the blood of all its richness, exhausts the body of its animating powers, and saps the very life itself from the brain and nerve centers. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food acts at once upon this impoverished condition of the blood, brain and nerve forces, stopping the drain and replacing the run down and worn out tissues with the same material that has been wasted. It fills the shrunken arteries with pure, rich blood, which increases the weight in sound, healthy flesh and muscles, that give you strength, and the brain and nerves with fresh, vital fluid, that forces new life and vigor into every portion of the body, building up the entire system and transforming the sufferer into a type of perfect manhood. Weigh yourself before taking it. Price 50 cents. Book free.

The street commissioners have been busy during the past week in cleaning the streets about the main part of the city. The amount of dirt and filth that accumulates in these thoroughfares during the winter season is something amazing, and the cleaning of them up in the spring always adds very materially to the appearance of the city.

The election officers in the different precincts of the county will have to furnish four different ballot boxes for use at the spring election, viz: town officers, judicial, state and county superintendent and one for the woman's ballot. The ladies will vote the same ballot that is used for the men, but under the law they must be deposited in a separate box.

W. F. Schaefer of Spring Green has promised to be in the city on the date of the first cattle and horse fair to be held in this city and stated that he would be prepared to take anything in the shape of cattle that the farmers could bring in. Farmers with stock should make it a point to be present, as from all that can be learned there will be a good demand for their stock. The fair occurs on the second Tuesday in April, that being on the 11th of the month.

Some of the farmers in this vicinity are bringing in small quantities of maple syrup. The general opinion is, however, that the supply will be small, and it is not expected that the run of sap will last very long. The best seasons for syrup seem to be when the snow stays on until later, and then goes off with warm sunshiny days, interspersed with freezing nights. The wet cloudy days do not cause much of a stroke of business about the sugar camps.

The people who were from Wausau to attend the oratorical contest appear to have been a "put out" because their man was not given first place. The Daily Record of that city publishes quite a lengthy article on the subject, in which it intimates that the decision of the judges was not in accordance with the markings they had made during the contest. Many people who attended the contest from Grand Rapids picked young Hoffmann for the winner, and now claim that he was far ahead of his competitors. The people from Wausau should not let their feelings get away with their better judgment.

The farm has very good 8 room house, large barn, sheds, etc., and is to be rented from the 1st of April.

The Catholic Order of Foresters have agreed to take the third story of the new building being erected at the east end of the bridge by the Wood County bank people, as soon as the place is completed and ready for occupancy. The Foresters have sublet the rooms to the Modern Woodmen of America, who will also hold their meetings there. It is possible that a deal may also be closed with the E. F. U. to give them the use of the same rooms for lodge purposes.

The Modern Woodmen of America had a delightful time at their hall on Thursday evening, the case of the justification being a banquet and social evening given by the Royal Neighbors. There was a large crowd in attendance both of the lodge members and their friends, and they reported a royal time. Dancing was one of the amusements of the evening, and this was kept up until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Gillette entertained the crowd with music on the violin and piano.

The first primary election was held at Marshall field Tuesday and the newspapers of that town say that it was the city about one dollar vote. There was very little rivalry there, and very few turned out to vote, and as the expenses were just as high as if every person in the city had voted it made the cost per vote pretty high. There is no question but what the matter of holding primary elections is all nonsense where there is no contest for the offices, and in such cases is an expensive luxury.

The ice below the Northwestern bridge got a move on it on Sunday and by night there was a long stretch of open water in that part of the river. The ice has gone out unusually early this year, notwithstanding the fact that there was a plenty of cold weather, and to all appearances it had frozen as thick as usual. This can be accounted for right in the city, where the new dam has changed the current and kept it from freezing to a certain extent, but further down this should have no effect on the ice.

Considering the amount of snow that was on the ground during the past winter, there has been very little snow in the river this spring. Many thought that there would be a flood in this section when the snow went off, but nothing worse than a three foot rise has occurred so far. In some of the cities in the southern part of the state there has been considerable damage and inconvenience from high water, and on the railroads in that section trouble has been caused by washouts. It is probable that the snow thawing so gradually in the northern part of the state has saved this section from any inconvenience.

T. J. Wood started his new building on the south side of the street at the east end of the bridge last week, and it is the intention to carry the work along as rapidly as possible. The small wooden building occupied by G. W. Pauls, F. G. Gilkey and T. J. Cooper will be moved around onto the side street, and be occupied by them until the new building is finished. No difficulty was encountered in the getting of this building as the foundation was put right into the wall that existed there, which had been built for that purpose. W. M. Martin will have charge of the construction work of building on the south side of the bridge and A. F. Billmyre will superintend the one on the north side.

Geo. N. Wood will sell you residence lots in Glenwood Addition and build you a home thereon, on monthly installments, covering a period of five or ten years. The lots are level with the graded streets. Dry cellars, plenty of good drinking water, telephone and mail carrier. Price of lots $15.00 up.

Assemblyman D. R. Curtin introduced a bill in the legislature providing for a session of the legislature every year instead of once in two years as is now the case. He claimed that if there was a session every year instead of once in two years there would not be so much dallying as is now the case. He was of the opinion that the way the thing is now run is a disgrace to the legislators, and that it is criminal to adjourn the body for a day, owing to the fact that the expenses run on just the same. No doubt this is a fact, but it looks to a man up in a tree as if there would be twice as much dallying if there was twice as many sessions of that body. It might prove so, anyway, and it would hardly be safe to try it. One of our exchanges suggests that about once in ten years would be often enough to have the legislature meet.

It has been known that for many years the people of the east and west sides in the city of Merrill have been ready to engage in the slightest provocation. It has always been supposed, however, that this fighting tendency was confined to the angry element of the city. According to a Wausau exchange, however, the good people of the chorches, who are supposed to stand for peace and love of their fellow-men, are also in on the deal. It was proposed to hold a series of revivals there, but no agreement could be patched up between the two sides of the city, and it is now the intention to hold the meetings on neutral ground where both sides can come and be saved without either one going into the territory of the enemy. The religious element should hold their meetings one side or the other and by turning out in force thus show their unchristianly brethren what religion will do for a fellow.

Fred Staff of the Congregational church, and the services being held at the home of Mrs. Emma Brundage, her daughter-in-law.

Mrs. Brundage died at Eureka, S. D., on Friday afternoon, at the home of her son, John N. Brundage, with whom she had been making her home for several years past, the cause of her death being pleurisy. The remains were taken to Minneapolis where they were cremated and then brought to this city for burial.

Mrs. Brundage was born in the state of Ohio in 1835, and was married in 1854 and for many years lived in this city, where her husband, John N. Brundage, was engaged in the newspaper business and, who was succeeded by Edward Brundage, she is survived by three sons, A. A. Brundage, of Wisconsin, N. D., F. B. Brundage, of Wausau, N. D., and J. NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES. Stevens Point Journal.—The Wisconsin Central has completed the unloading of 37 cars of granulated sugar from the American Sugar Refinery in New Orleans in the shops at the south side. The sugar will be stored in transit here for a few weeks and will later be distributed to various points in the northwest. It was unloaded here to save demurrage fees on the cars in which it was loaded. Part of the sugar is in sacks, the balance in barrels. The average carload is composed of 100 sacks, each worth about $8. This would make a total of 14,800 sacks or a money value of $88,800.

Stevens Point Journal.—Rev. F. A. Nimitt was called to Plover this afternoon to officiate at the funeral of Mrs. James Waters, who died Thursday after a long illness. The deceased was upward of 60 years of age and has been a highly respected resident of Plover for many years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. C. E. Duanev of Plover and Mrs. Philip Bremner of Ashland.

Joe Koski is lying at the point of death at Rhineland, having received three bullets in his body in a boarding house row. Mike Jaska of Stevens Point, alleged to have done the shooting, is in custody.

Plumfield Sun.—At a wrestling match at Nekossa, on the 12th inst., between Al. Jensen of this city, and Norman Wood of the town of Saratoga, Jensen won three falls out of five. Jensen is a tough proposition when it comes to wrestling.

Frank Singley of Plover, has on exhibition the key to the old jail erected here about 61 years ago. The key had been in the possession of the late H. H. Moore for several years. It is a hand forging and contains enough metal to make several dozen keys in general use today.

W. E. Butterfield, who for several years managed the Lincoln hotel in Merrill, has purchased from C. E. Blodgett the Blodgett hotel of Marshfield, the leading hostelry of that city. The consideration was $55,000.

Wausau Herald.—Frank Okmiski and Carl Kraatz will represent the Wausau High school this evening at the district oratorical contest in Grand Rapids. Supt. Karl Mathio and Miss Daisy Rogers, their teacher accompanied the boys to Grand Rapids this morning.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a cathartic, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Theiford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, shaking up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chickens, cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, diarrhoea and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and trader should certainly give it a trial.

It costs 25c. a can and seven times its price in profit.

PITTSBURGH, PA., March 29, 1901.

There being using your Black-Draught Ruck and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time, I have used all your stock feed but I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.

Stevens Point Journal.—Louis Laudy, a resident of the town of Sherry, Wood county, arrested a few days ago charged with forging and uttering a check for $25 on the Wood County National bank, had his preliminary examination before Justice Park Wednesday. The check was passed upon C. J. Hein of Junction City, who made the complaint. At the examination C. B. Nelson appeared for the state and C. H. Cassin for the defendant. Five witnesses were examined, C. J. Hein, of Junction City, Chas. E. Daly, Grand Juror, A. H. McWhorter, John C. Vander and John Sullivan of Milladore. The testimony tended to show that Laudy had also uttered another check, this one for $20, in which the same names as those which appeared on the first check, had also been forged. Laudy was held for trial in the circuit court, his bail being fixed at $500, which as yet he has not given.

Office of the County Clerk, March 28, 1905.

To the electors of Wood County:

Notice is hereby given that a judicial election is to be held in the several towns, wards and election precincts in the county of Wood on the third day of April, 1905, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or edition designation, each in its proper place. The names of the candidates are printed in a yellow star, below.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters. A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have endorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking his ballot. But he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled it must be returned to three clerks, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three ballots. Unofficial ballot or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. [After it is marked] it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerk on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or by reason of physical disability is unable to mark his ballot, can have the assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are as follows:
